General Background

I have began my higher education in Istanbul University, Astronomy and Space Sciences department. Although its place in my academical background is debatable, I had the chance to work with Informatics department as a web programmer. Then I switched to Hacettepe University's Philosophy department and got my Bachelor of Arts diploma from there. In the meantime I had worked Hacettepe University's Information office and prepared its website, client database and documents used to introduce the university to the prospective students. After I graduated I choose to do my Master's on the Sociology department of the same university. I have selected Criminology as specialization and had done my thesis on "Organized Crime Groups and Their Place in the Globalized World". While doing my master's I was selected as an exchange student in the Erasmus program and had studied in Rijksuniversiteit Groningen (Groningen Royal University) for six months. Now I am working as a translator, project assistant and communication liaison for Altındağ Guidance and Research Center (which is an institution of Ministry of National Education (MEB)) with a contract.
